

Keith Lacy started in the commercial construction industry when he was only 15 years old & needed a summer job. That turned into a never-ending pursuit of leading successful teams & helping clients get the best quality & service possible.

Established in 2018 & locating to Lumpkin County in 2021, Catapult Construction launched out of a desire to propel people & businesses forward through fine craftsmanship & exceptional service. Catapult Construction provides customized fabrication of solid surface material & other services for clients like McDonald's, Burger King, Popeye's, Bojangles, Panera Bread, & many more.

In the future they plan to expand & offer customized sound acoustic panels for other commercial industries in addition to existing food/beverage partners. This family-owned & -run company takes workforce development seriously & is mentoring the next generation of craftsmen & leaders for an effective & valuable impact in the commercial construction industry-& beyond.
